I bring with me a decade of dynamic experience at the intersection of business innovation, social leadership, and cultural entrepreneurship. My journey, shaped by both engineering precision and grassroots engagement, reflects a commitment to growth—not just of enterprises, but of communities and human potentia.

I Raised in Malerkotla, a city known for its rich artistic and political heritage, I have always been driven by the belief that entrepreneurship is not just about profit—it's about purpose. With a foundational degree in Electronics and Communication Engineering, I launched my professional path equipped with both technical acumen and a deep appreciation for structured problem-solving.

As Co-Founder and Marketing Head of Genfer Global Academy, I led strategic campaigns that achieved a 30% increase in student enrollment across the Gulf region, demonstrating my ability to align educational value with regional market dynamics. Through tailored messaging, community outreach, and brand trust-building,

I helped position the academy as a forward-thinking institution committed to global education.

My entrepreneurial instincts also gave rise to Darbar Tents, a premium manufacturer of Jodhpuri and Jaipuri tents headquartered in Malerkotla. Under my leadership, the brand has grown its footprint to three additional locations, gaining recognition for quality craftsmanship and traditional elegance.

By bridging heritage design with contemporary demands, Darbar Tents stands as a symbol of cultural continuity and business excellence.

Parallel to my ventures in business, I have remained deeply rooted in social advocacy. As Vice President of the Punjab Youth Congress, I led impactful initiatives for youth mobilization, civic awareness, and grassroots community development.

My dual recognition with the State Performer Award by the Indian Youth Congress (Delhi HQ) is a reflection of consistent, on-ground impact and an unwavering drive to uplift the marginalized through political and social action.

Fluent in the languages of both logic and empathy, I operate as a bridge between commercial vision and community need.

Whether it is creating jobs, enhancing educational access, or preserving cultural identity through business—my work is defined by alignment with values, people-first leadership, and a passion for meaningful outcomes.

“In every endeavor—entrepreneurial or social—I strive to lead with integrity, build with creativity, and act with the conviction that true progress is always shared”
